Spiritual Pilgrimage by Bishop John Boonzaaijer

In the language and imagery of the Bible, the pilgrimage of Israel from Egypt to Canaan is metaphorical and even becomes the prototype for all spiritual pilgrimage. While Egypt was a land of plenty, and a place of refuge from famines, it was nevertheless Israel's house of bondage. Israel is delivered by God's saving arm, baptized in the Red Sea, is brought into the deserts and Mount Sinai to receive catechesis in the liturgy, the calendar, and the Law of God, is plagued by enemies, serpents, hunger, and thirst, and finally they cross the boundary waters of the Jordan River to enter the land of promise and rest.

But not quite.

"There remains therefore a rest for the people of God (Hebrews 4)." Wilderness and deserts in the world are here because Adam and Eve were cast out of the Garden God had planted in the east of Eden. And it is to the heavenly reality and fulfillment of this Garden that the entire biblical narrative brings the people

Our beloved Rector was consecrated the International Missionary Suffragan Bishop for Cuba on February 15, 2024, at The Cathedral Church of the Holy Communion. Bishop Boonzaaijer (center) is pictured between Bishop Ray Sutton (center, left), Bishop Ordinary, and Presiding REC Bishop, and Bishop Foley Beach (center, right), ACNA Archbishop. Other Bishops attending included Bishop John Fenwick, Primus of the Free Church of England, Bishop Gerhard Meyer of the REC Missionary Convocation in Germany, and Rev. Enrique Melchor of the Diocese of Cuba.

The Chapel's Shrove Tuesday activities included the annual Pancake Race. Youth were paired into teams and excitedly ran across the front yard, flipping their pancakes at one end before returning to exchange their pans with the next runner.

The Valentine's Day Dance was transferred to Shrove Tuesday because of a conflict with Ash Wednesday. The dance is one of the events that brings both church and school together.

of God, and the soul of each believer in the end of the Book of the Revelation to Saint John the Divine. This Heavenly Rest is solely in Jesus. He is the Greater Joshua, and the Saviour of the world.

The book we are reading during this year's Lenten Series, "Images of Pilgrimage," by Robert Crouse, is beautiful—yet complex, and with multiple layers. Its meditations challenge the reader, yet can deliver truth and comfort to all, even if it be simply one or two "takeaways" each week, without grasping more, for "we are pilgrims all" on our way to the eternal rest which God offers to each soul, through our Saviour who undertook the pilgrimage of this life in a fallen world with sinners. "For us, and for our salvation," He suffered the cross and the pangs of hell toward which His entire pilgrimage was aimed, and then ascended into heaven, bringing us with Him to that place of rest and completion and fullness. During our remaining years of pilgrimage, our "lives are hid with Christ in God."

The seemingly plentiful house of bondage maintains an appealing temptation for the comfort of wayfaring souls, but we, who "love Him because He first loved us," are en route, with Jesus, to that rest when we will know Him, even as now we are already known. We travel to the heart and life of God, and find our peace in Him.

Parishoners gathered for the annual photo in advance of the Annual Meeting. How many can you identify?

Thy Will — Cyprian

We say, “Thy will be done, as in heaven so in earth” not so that God will do what He wills, but that we may be able to do what God wills. For who resists God and prevents Him from doing what He wills? But since the devil hinders us from always obeying God’s will with our thoughts and actions, we pray and ask that God’s will may be done in us.... Now, if the Son was obedient to do His Father’s will, the servant should be much more obedient to his Master’s will!.... This is the will of God which Christ both did and taught: humility in conversation; steadfastness in faith; modesty in words; justice in deeds; mercy in works; discipline in morals; inability to do a wrong, and ability to bear a wrong done; to keep peace with the brethren; to love God with all our hearts; to love Him as a Father; to fear Him as God; to prefer nothing above Christ (because He did not prefer anything above us); to adhere inseparably to His love; and to stand by His cross bravely and faithfully. When there is any battle against His name and honor, it is His will that we exhibit the consistency of confession; in torture, the confidence with which we do battle; in death, the patience with which we are crowned. This is to do the commandment of God. This is to fulfill the will of the Father.
